THE FUTURE OF
ARCHITECTURAL WOOD
PRODUCTS IS NOW

Crafted from reclaimed wood, the Oak Nine collection was born from a deep respect for the past and a clear vision for a more sustainable future. Oak Nine redefines what wooden flooring can be, bringing rich character through every crack, knot, and split. Never before has imperfection held so much charm. As reclaimed floors continue to rise in popularity, we're excited to bring this timeless trend to a wider audience — with a collection that feels both grounded in history and ahead of its time.

PERFECTING WOOD USING SCIENCE

OAK NINE features a Birch plywood core with an extra thick top layer (6-8 mm), providing enhanced stability, durability, and the authentic beauty of solid wood. Available in one 'reclaimed' grading, it highlights a mix of knots and grain variation. The finish combines reactive stains and hardwax oil, enhancing color depth and protection. With an aged, reclaimed texture and aged bevel, it offers a timeworn appearance.

A floor shaped by history, built for the future.

THIS FLOOR HAS A PAST

FROM PAST TO FUTURE : THE SECOND LIFE OF A WOOD PLANK

This is no ordinary wood. Every grain, crack tells a story. Of people, of movement, of time. For years they were loaded, moved and shaped. Until they took on a character that no new plank can ever match. Today we have given this wood a new life. Reclaimed with care, refined with craftsmanship, reworked with an eye to the future. The result is a floor that not only lives from the inside out, but is also a conscious choice for sustainability.
